

Red China Shows New Itchiness

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There are ominous signs that the Red Chinese, angry and frustrated because of Premier Khrushchev's policies of peaceful coexistence, are hell-bent for reckless action in Asia. They may even be toying with the idea of risking renewed war in Korea.

The Red Chinese attitude, reflected in recent statements by Asian Communist leaders, appears to be a direct result of the Soviet-British-U.S. agreement to discontinue all nuclear tests except those underground.

The ambushing of U.S. soldiers in South Korea looked anything but accidental. The Red Chinese are making noises indicating they want to apply the heat once again in that area.

In Southeast Asia, Peking indicates an impatience to clean up the situation in Indochina and drive the West and its influence out of South Viet Nam and Laos. The war in Viet Nam may get hotter.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru has warned his people to be ready for any eventuality, as if expecting that a Red Chinese buildup along India's borders may be the prelude to new warlike pressures.

Peking is getting all-out support from the North Korean Communists in the argument with Moscow about how world communism should advance. The Soviets seem to have lost all control over the North Koreans. This may be true, too, in smoldering Indochina.

Backed by the Chinese, North Korean Communist leaders are sounding as truculent as they did before an armistice halted the Korean action 10 years ago.

Recently a high-ranking North Korean Communist toured Red China. On his return last week to Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, he said in a speech that "one half of our territory (meaning South Korea) is under the occupation of the U.S. imperialists and we have not yet completed the national liberation revolution."

"National liberation" is a Communist way of describing a war to advance communism. It is Red China's contention that Khrushchev's policy of easing tensions with the West hampers the "national liberation movement."

If the Red Chinese start something dangerous in Asia, they could put Khrushchev on an uncomfortable spot, demanding that he choose between his Chinese allies and the West.

Scioto Bank Suit Goes to State Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A suit involving a bank account $51,389 in the red reached the Ohio Supreme Court today.

Livestock dealer Arthur P. Berger and Columbus Union Stockyards appealed from an adverse appellate court decision.

They were sued by the Scioto Bank of Commercial Point, Pickaway County, after Berger deposited checks from Union Stockyards totaling $17,165 that were dishonored in 1957.

The bank charged the checks against Berger's account, reducing his balance to $15,952. Subsequent deposits were dishonored and the account dropped to a minus $51,389.

Franklin County Common Pleas Court held that Berger and the stockyards were not liable to the bank but an appellate court reversed.

In their appeal, the defendants raised the question of whether the bank could sue to recoup losses from subsequently dishonored checks.

Country Doctor Due To Become President

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Presidential electors vote in provincial capitals today with a country doctor, Arturo Illia, slated to be their choice for Argentina's 29th president.

The final tally is not expected until Thursday, but Illia, 62, has more than enough pledges to win. The moderate leftist awaited the results at his home in Cruz del Eje, 460 miles northwest of Buenos Aires, where he has mixed politics with prescriptions for 25 years.

His administration is expected to be anti-Communist, although he promised in his campaign to cancel foreign oil development contracts. U.S. firms hold most of these contracts.

"We are not anti-Yankee," Illia said during the campaign. "We only want to be respected as a sovereign government and have things done in broad daylight."

He contended the foreign oil contracts benefited some officials and merchants rather than the country as a whole.

Illia won 26 per cent of the vote in the July 7 election to lead the nine-man field. He picked up additional electoral college pledges in post-election negotiations.

Argentina's military, in control behind President Jose Maria Guido's caretaker government, gave its approval to the July 7 results and cleared the way for an end to 16 months of political turmoil. Ex-president Arturo Frondizi, ousted March 29, 1962, was expected to be freed from house arrest. The military deposed Frondizi after he allowed followers of exiled dictator Juan D. Peron to run in provincial and local elections and they came out ahead.

The military barred followers of the ex-dictator from the presidential election.

Democrat Elected To Congress Seat

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Fred B. Rooney, 37, a Democrat, has been elected to finish the unexpired term of his political tutor, the late U.S. Rep. Francis E. Walter, in a special election in Pennsylvania's 15th Congressional District.

Rooney said his victory Tuesday over Republican Robert G. Bartlett, 31, a personnel executive at Bethlehem Steel Co., was "a decisive vindication of President Kennedy whose policies were under attack" in the campaign and a repudiation of Republican Gov. William W. Scranton.

In the unofficial tally, Rooney received 48,687 votes to Bartlett's 42,174.

Jim Tabor, a former major league baseball player with the Boston Red Sox, was one of the drivers in the Pickaway County Fair harness races yesterday.

Tabor, who quit baseball in 1946, is currently stabling at the Fairgrounds while he is racing at Scioto Downs.

"There is something about this racing business that gets in your blood," Tabor said yesterday. "It is the greatest participant sport in the world and one of the healthiest, in my opinion. In no other sport can you find men in their 70s actively participating."

Ward Convicted On 2 Charges

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Stephen Ward was convicted today of two charges of living on the immoral earnings of prostitutes.

The society osteopath, lying gravely ill in a London hospital from an overdose of drugs, was found innocent on three other vice charges against him.

The verdict was reached in the trial's eighth day by the jury of 11 men and one woman after 4½ hours of deliberation.

Conviction on all prison charges might have meant a sentence of 25 years in prison.

Court officials said that Justice Sir Archie Marshall would not sentence Ward, if convicted, until he is well enough to be present.

Ward still was in a coma five hours after admission to the hospital. Doctors and nurses were administering oxygen in an effort to bring him around.

The presiding judge completed his summing up of the evidence and his instructions to the jury after cancelling Ward's bail of 3,000 pounds ($8,400) and instructing the police to "take the normal steps to ensure greater security" of Ward.

The five charges against Ward are all misdemeanors although they carry a possible total penalty of 25 years in prison.

Ward, 50, an osteopath and artist, was found unconscious this morning by a friend, Noel Howard Jones, in whose Chelsea district flat he had spent the night.

A resident of the building said he understood Ward had left "lots and lots of notes."

A source close to Ward said that among the notes was one to Julia Gulliver, 22, his constant companion in recent weeks; one to Barry O'Brien, a newspaper reporter who testified in his defense at the trial, and one to his lawyers.

Ward, charged with two counts of procuring young girls for immoral purposes and three counts of living off the proceeds of prostitution, could get a maximum of 25 years in prison.

Ward is accused of operating a stable of prostitutes in which Christine Keeler, the former mistress of ex-war minister John D. Profumo, and Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies were star attractions.

Swedish Defense Chief Alerted about Spying

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Air Force Col. Stig Wennerstrom, charged with being a Soviet spy for 15 years, was a known spy risk four years before his arrest last month, a judicial panel says. Three jurists, appointed to investigate the government's role in the spy case, said Tuesday night the Swedish defense minister was alerted about Wennerstrom four years ago.

Soldier-Lawyer-Envoy Hurley Dies at Age 80

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, 80 whose career spanned services as secretary of war ambassador to China, soldier, lawyer and oil operator, died Tuesday, apparently of a heart attack. Hurley, who became a major general in 1943 after 41 years of military service, was secretary of war from 1929-1933 and ambassador to China from 1944-1945.

The Speed Committee of the Pickaway County Fair has provided two fine days of racing for local fans.

Pickaway County Sheriff Walton W. Spangler asked that a nurse come to the Red Cross headquarters at the Fairgrounds immediately during the talent contest last night. A small girl had fainted. Spangler said he thought every woman in the stands was a registered nurse. After making the announcement he discovered the little girl's mother was a registered nurse herself.

Terry Morris, first performer in the Talent contest at the grand stands last night, had the entire audience clapping hands and stomping feet when he sang "Black Land Farmer".

The sound equipment did not function properly at times during the Talent contest. A speaker had to be replaced so the audience at one end of the Grandstand could hear. Records for a couple of the numbers didn't sound just right at times, requiring a restart by performers. This made their acts all the more difficult.

The Grandstands were packed and people were sitting in the aisles at the Talent Contest, proving that youth is the biggest attraction at the fair.

And for the most part, Pickaway County Fairgoers were not disappointed in the talent displayed. Judges did not have an easy time picking the five top contestants.

There were lots of babies visiting the fair Tuesday. They all appeared very happy and interested as they went past in their strollers. But somewhere in the vast throng was a hungry baby who had lost his bottle on the midway.

The kids had a good time with the bottle. They would say to friends, "You lost something" and then point to the baby bottle.

Edie Adams in Kenley's 'Rain' Good Adult Drama

By Richard L. Davis

Another 'great' has been added to the list of stars to play the role of Sadie Thompson in "Rain."

Edie Adams, currently starring at Vets Memorial Auditorium in the boldly dramatic tale based on a short story by Somerset Maugham, is convincing to say the least. As the shady lady of Pago Pago, Miss Adams ranks with other 'greats' who have played the role including Tullulah Bankhead, Gloria Swanson, Joan Crawford and Rita Hayworth.

"Rain" is the Kenley Players only straight drama of the season and a good selection. The only weak spot of the production is apparent in the person of Ralph Meeker, in the supporting role of the fanatic minister (Rev. Davidson).

Commendable performances are turned in by Don Chastain as Marine Sgt. O'Hara, Honey Sanders as Mrs. Horn Amene; Kenley favorite Dick O'Neill as Joe Horn, the trader of Pago Pago; and by Marguerite Lenert as Mrs. Davidson.

The stage setting, designed by Bertram Heckel, for "Rain" is very effective. . . . And rain, it does! All three acts take place in the living quarters behind the general store at Pago Pago in the South Seas during the rainy season.

Sadie and other passengers enroute from Honolulu are forced to stay at the hotel-store between boat departures. It isn't long until 'Sadie's reputation is uncovered and made the subject of the do-gooders gossip.

Rev. Davidson shortly announces his objective to convert the "loose woman" and make her repent for her sins and Sgt.

Two dozen firemen answered the call. The boys squirmed as fire axes whacked away at the tar. After a lecture from police, the boys ran home.

afternoon at the Fair between 2 and 3 and each evening between 7 and 8.

One touching sight Tuesday was three second graders or maybe a couple of second graders and a third grader who had just purchased toy swords at a concession stand. Arms around each other, the three kids gave a fine rendition of the mouseteater song.

Then the awful truth dawned on the three musketeers. They had spent all their fair money. One youngster however found a last dime. True to the motto, "One for all and all for one" he purchased a bottle of pop and gallantly requested three straws.

Overheard was this remark: A youngster pulled out a wallet, obviously flat, to show his mother. Patting it, he said: "Dry, completely dry!"

The gateman at the Fair Tuesday was a real toughie. Everybody wanted to use the coliseum entrance. But the gateman was not about to allow this. "Other gate big boy," he shouted. "Move along there before I call the cops." And the traffic moved.

One dark red car drove up and the gate man gave his tough command. The driver beckoned him over, said a few words and the gate man pulled aside the road block and made a sweeping bow as the red car entered the Coliseum gate.

The gate man grinned. "He said he was Governor Rhodes and I wasn't taking any chances."

Shortly before noon today Ernie Lindsey, king of the 1963 Pickaway County Junior Fair, earned another honor. He showed the grand champion market lamb of the junior show. The reserve champion was shown by Bob Bower.

Fair Manager Bill Cook estimated last night's crowd at about 6,000. He said there was more than 800 paid admissions at the grandstand and the overall crowd exceeded the number usually attending Tuesday night activities of Fair Week.

HAIR OILINESS
Q. What is the cause of excessive oiliness of the hair?
A. Some people have dry scalps, some oily scalps, and some inbetween. When the "normal" scalp more or less suddenly becomes too active in producing oil, a change of shampoo may be called for. Some medicated shampoos tend to make the scalp oily. Switch to a different brand of shampoo and see if that helps.

NYLON
Q. My skin breaks out every time I wear nylon stockings or underclothing. How can this "allergy" be overcome?
A. So far as is known, there is no really effective way to desensitize against nylon. Just avoid wearing nylon clothing.

VITAMIN K—VEINS
Q. Would taking vitamin K fade out these little broken veins that have become very unbecome guests on my legs?
A. Taking vitamin K would probably do little good. About the only way to dismiss these unwelcome "guests" is to inject each vein with a destructive chemical solution. Unfortunately, the departing guest often leaves a ghost—a thin white line where the vein resided. The cosmetic result may not be entirely satisfactory.

HAIR OILINESS

Q. What is the cause of excessive oiliness of the hair?

A. Some people have dry scalps, some oily scalps, and some inbetween. When the "normal" scalp more or less suddenly becomes too active in producing oil, a change of shampoo may be called for. Some medicated shampoos tend to make the scalp oily. Switch to a different brand of shampoo and see if that helps.

NYLON

Q. My skin breaks out every time I wear nylon stockings or underclothing. How can this "allergy" be overcome?

A. So far as is known, there is no really effective way to desensitize against nylon. Just avoid wearing nylon clothing.

VITAMIN K—VEINS

Q. Would taking vitamin K fade out these little broken veins that have become very unsightly on my legs?

A. Taking vitamin K would probably do little good. About the only way to diminish these unsightly "spider veins" is to inject each vein with a destructive chemical solution. Unfortunately, the departing guest often leaves a ghost—a thin white line where the vein resided. The cosmetic result may not be entirely satisfactory.

Churches Take Look at Themselves And Racial Barriers at Own Doors

EDITOR'S NOTE —Despite official pronouncements in favor of integration, racial bars persist widely at the church door in America. But a new militancy on the issue is apparent this turbulent summer as individual churches face the problem. Third in a special series of articles by The Associated Press on racial crisis.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL, Associated Press Religion Writer

The picture in the Sunday School lesson showed a group of babies in a clinic, two of them Negroes. Another picture showed three children at play, one a Negro.

The story discussion said: "God loves white children yellow children, brown children. Dorothy's hands are very pale. Her hair is golden, Ben's hands are brown. His eyes are black. Do you think God loves Dorothy better because her hands are white?" "No, indeed not — it would be sad indeed if we all looked alike."

Most American religious bodies, in their official pronouncements and educational materials, have long stressed the equal worth of all human beings, whatever their color—that all were created by God and precious to Him.

At the same time, however, the churches have often been described as the most racially segregated major institutions in the nation's life.

"The shame of Sunday morning," goes an oft-used phrase of self-reproach in church circles. And another: "The most segregated hour of the week is at 11 a.m. on Sunday."

Since church congregations harbor intimate personal relationships among whole families — adults, youths and children — it has been maintained that once Negro and white mingle fully there, racial barriers will collapse elsewhere.

In that sense, the local church becomes a testing ground — a point of decision — for the whole community pattern.

Churches have long been rallying points for pro-integration activity in many instances and some Southern ministers have been roughed up for their parts in it.

On the other hand, the churches themselves in their local compositions have remained predominantly one-color units, even though the number of integrated parishes has been increasing rapidly of late.

This is the lump in the throat of the churches — the acknowledged gap between their official pleas, and their on-the-spot conditions.

With the racial crisis flaming and with Negroes demanding equity with new vehemence and immediacy, church strategy generally has undergone an extraordinary change in the last few months.

It has switched from talk, to action.

"It amounts to a new posture toward methodology," says the Rev. Dr. Alfred S. Kramer, a sociologist-clergyman consultant to the Racial and Cultural Relations Department of the National Council of Churches.

"After years of repentance and appeals for racial reconciliation, the churches have now begun a course of social intervention at the first level."

This means official backing of direct action challenging segregation on the local scene.

As expressed by the national council, which includes 33 Protestant and Orthodox denominations with 40 million members, the method calls for personal "involvement in every phase of the struggle for justice including negotiations and demonstration."

A new interdenominational "Commission on Religion and Race" was formed in June, to implement the task.

Steps were under way to form local arms in communities in all regions to check congregational practices, to support and join in demonstrations, to press for civil rights legislation, and to organize "corps of prison chaplains" to discourage police mistreatment of demonstrators.

"There's a job to be done in every city and every village in America," said the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, vice chairman of the commission, and chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Blake and Bishop Daniel Corrigan of the Episcopal Church were arrested July 4 in a Baltimore integration demonstration.

The new punch in the church stand has showed up in many ways. The United Church of Christ (a merger including Congregationalists) at its general synod in Denver this summer shaped a potent financial weapon.

It moved to make loans for new church construction contingent on nondiscrimination in building work and on a commitment to an interracial policy by congregational leaders.

United Presbyterians have adopted a similar policy. The denomination this spring appropriated a half-million dollars to support direct-action programs for integration. The Disciples of Christ also made a special allocation for this purpose.

Roman Catholicism was a forerunner in integration action. In 1947, Joseph Cardinal Ritter, of St. Louis, desegregated parochial schools there, despite lay resistance. Catholic Bishop Vincent S. Waters did the same in the diocese of Raleigh, N.C., in 1953, ahead of the court decision.

He got shoved about in the process, but stuck to his rule. "Segregation is a product of darkness and the time has come to end it," he said.

Among the nation's Negroes, about 10 million belong to separate all-Negro Protestant denominations—Baptist and Methodist. About 500,000 are Roman Catholics and another 500,000 belong to predominantly white Protestant bodies, although they are chiefly in one-color congregations.

At the national level, in most denominations, and in interdenominational bodies, Negroes have considerable representation.

But the pattern rarely is reflected on the local scene—in the overwhelming white suburban congregations, and in de facto segregated city neighborhoods, North and South.

In its formal and official preachments however, the church traditionally has pleaded for interracial brotherhood.

In many cases, groups of Southern pastors, in the midst of racial tension, have issued manifestos calling for equal treatment of the Negro. Some pastors have lost their posts as a result.

Greenville Man Drowns

CELINA, Ohio (AP) — Grand Lake St. Marys claimed a drowning victim Tuesday when William Tester, 28, of Greenville became entangled in ropes while pulling his boat to the south shore.

Among those Southern preachers who support segregation, some maintain that the idea of interracial mixing is Communist inspired. Some also argue that the Bible teaches segregation.

"God created the races distinct from one another," declared a Southern fundamentalists' group. On the other hand, pro-integrationist ministers cite many Biblical passages in support of all men's equality before God, such as Acts 17:26, saying God "made of the blood all nations", and Galatians 3:28, saying men are "all one in Christ Jesus", without divisions of race or status.

In any case, the racial bars have persisted widely at the church door.

Dapper Detrouer Held as Hoaxer

DETROIT (AP)—A dapper Detroit man who police said smooth-talked women out of thousands of dollars was held Tuesday.

Police said three Akron Ohio, women complained against Richard Powers, 49, of Detroit. They said Powers also is wanted in California for parole violation.

Powers was arrested last Wednesday, police said after a Detroit woman said she lent him $130. He also was wanted for failure to pay hotel bills in Detroit, police said.

Police said Powers obtained money from women by posing as a recently discharged Marine who had lost his wallet.

3 Investors Ordered To Answer Query

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Court has ordered three witnesses to answer questions about the Certified Credit Investors' Committee.

Judge Dana F. Reynolds held that Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe has the right to take depositions from the three, brushing aside protests of their attorney that the court has no jurisdiction.

Ordered to appear Thursday for Saxbe's hearing digging into the fund raising activities of the investors' committee are: Daniel E. Armel, board chairman of Certified Credit Corp.; Robert N. Savage, the firm's secretary, and Dr. Arthur A. Lutz, Springfield, a committee member.

Saxbe asserted he had questioned "everybody on the committee" except "the three handling the money" solicited from stockholders and holders of thrift certificates in a June 21 letter. Saxbe said he wants to know how much money has been collected, where it has gone, and who is handling it.

Judge Reynolds held that the three men must answer Saxbe's questions in connection with receivership cases filed in Common Pleas Court against Certified Credit Corp. and its subsidiaries. The company and six subsidiaries have filed for reorganization under the Federal Bankruptcy Act.

Don't Start Forest Fire

As usual at this time of year the sound, smell and sight of a forest fire are readily available for any tourist who has never heard, smelled or seen one before.

Already this summer there have been serious fires in forests. Forests are valuable and forest fires are expensive to fight.

There will be many more forest fires this summer and this autumn, too. Not only will lightning start some but careless tourists — who either won't read signs or who cannot concentrate when they do —

End of Crew Cut?

A crew cut is a haircut which makes a man look about as trim as a peach. A brush cut is about the same, and for years many have been wondering where the difference lies.

No matter — the days of both those hair styles for men may be numbered now that a South Dakota court has decreed all juvenile first offenders are to be punished by having their heads shaved.

Perils of Summer

Perils of summertime living are such that the average citizen has to be more on his toes than usual these days. A quick glance at weekend events proves this.

First of all, the accidents. There are far more than usual at this time of year. Not only automobile accidents, either. There are drownings, injuries from new machines like power lawn mowers, and heart attacks as well as bumps and bruises from too vigorous participation in summer sports.

Certain types of law-breaking also become more frequent during the hot weather months. Those involving liquor, for instance.

As for accidents, it bears repeating that the use of ordinary common sense can prevent most of them. During the summer more people than usual are driving on the highways. Therefore why not exercise more caution than usual?

Non-swimmers should never forget that they will drown if they venture into water can be counted on to accidentally start others.

The safety rules are so easy to follow that it's surprising lightning isn't the only cause of forest fires. All a person really has to do is make sure he lights his campfire in a safe place and is positive it is out when he leaves it. If he does that and if he isn't a careless smoker, chances are he won't ever have the memory of a forest fire burning on his conscience.

The court apparently assumes that a juvenile with a shaved head will be a juvenile who will feel just awful about whatever it was he did.

As a shaved head is not much more nude than one with a crew cut, it is fairly apparent that those men who pay to have their hair cut very short were insulted in absentia by the South Dakota court. The decision should make them bristle.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I have good, thick hair, but from time to time I notice one or two patches of baldness which disappear after a few months.

Does it mean I will be bald?

S.D.M. Louisiana

Dear Mr. M.: These patches of baldness are called "alopecia areata". This can occur in people without any underlying disease of the scalp. Sometimes it is associated with a period of emotional upset. The loss of hair seems to occur more during the winter.

With or without special medication, the hair slowly returns to normal. It does not mean that baldness is inevitable.

Can anything be done for teeth grinding? I go to sleep and wake up in the morning with a tired jaw.

A.L.W. Ohio

Dear Miss W.: Many people, particularly when over-anxious tense, grind their teeth during the day and even while they sleep at night. This is called "bruxism".

Dentists say that bruxism is rare among patients who are relaxed.

A tired jaw is not the only disadvantage of grinding the teeth. The constant pressure may wear away the enamel of the teeth, sometimes causing them to loosen. More important is the damage to underlying bone and gum tissue.

Plastic "night guards" are effective in controlling bruxism. They are comfortable, lightweight and molded to fit the upper teeth. They are usually worn while the patient sleeps.

You should consult your dentist about this helpful device.

Is there a possibility that the beginning of a coronary heart attack could be painless?

W.W.T. Conn

Dear Mr. T.: Dr. Samuel A. Levine of Boston, an outstanding heart specialist, states that it is uncommon for a coronary attack to be painless.

Of course the term "painless" can be confusing. Some people will react violently to minor pain, while others will feel severe pain only moderately.

Your question is interesting because of the anxiety it reveals. Why not allay your fears by having a general health checkup? Then stop worrying about an illness that you do not have.

I am studying singing. I have been told that I should gain at least 30 pounds.

Will this added weight strengthen my vocal cords and give me a better voice?

H.T. Calif.

Dear Miss T.: No, the added weight will only make you a fat singer. For better health as a singer, or in any field of endeavor, stay within the established weight limit for your height and age.

My husband refuses to have our child vaccinated against smallpox because he read about possible complications. Can you help us?

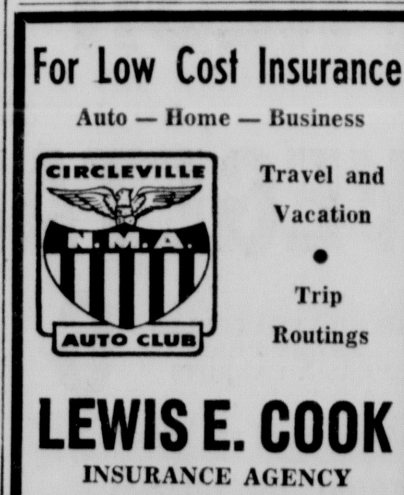

Mrs. E.F.F. Arkansas

Dear Mrs. F.: So rarely is there any significant complication following smallpox vaccination that it is unwise not to give your child protection against this severe disease. It is not fair to one's emotional stability to live in constant anxiety.

Educational Point Missed

By John Chamberlain

Last week I sat through a panel discussion of Cold War education at the Governors Conference in Miami Beach. Aside from the introduction by Governor Farris Bryant of Florida of several aerial photographs of Fidel Castro's prison for political dissenters on the Isle of Pines, the panel moved on such a rarefied academic high level that it proved suffocating.

Since the governors were hardly a hundred miles away from the Cold War reality of a thoroughly subverted and stricken Cuba, it is too bad that they did not avail themselves of the "education" that they might have gotten by mixing with some of the thousands of Cuban refugees who throng the Miami region. It may contribute to the education of high school students in Utah or North Carolina if the courses in civics and American history are laced with sturdy references to the principles of freedom. But a strict diet of abstractions can put the young mind to sleep. The problem that none of the governors on the panel, with the exception of Governor Bryant, seemed to recognize was the one of conveying what it feels like to be faced with Communism in the concrete.

It would have been easy to remedy the panel deficiency by summoning, say a couple of exiled Cuban court reporters who, from a Miami base keep a strict monitoring watch on Havana radio broadcasts, or better yet, some young Cubans who recently took a small boat back to their home island and tangled with some of Castro's militia. They had to kill a couple of militiamen to make their escape, and they performed the astounding feat of capturing two uniformed Castromen and bringing them back to Florida. The U.S., naturally, returned the Castromen to Havana. We don't believe in tweaking Castro's beard.

The reality of the Cold War, as it is fought in southern Florida, is that our government isn't interested in helping anybody fight it. We reserve a cold malevolence for people who take the Cold War seriously. Helicopters keep close watch on suspicious looking small boats; to send agents into Cuba, the exiles have to contend not only both their enemies but with the organized police and military power of a great nation that should be on their side. The British in the Bahamas cooperate with the U.S. Coast Guard and Navy in protecting Castro against intrusions, and the British even do a fair bit of trading with the bearded tyrant who has been doing his best to contribute to the subversion of the old colony of British Guiana.

To the Editor:

I am writing this concerning conduct of spectators of Little League baseball games. I am directing it to the fans.

I am a spectator of Little League Baseball games. It is my understanding these games are not entirely for competition, but for the welfare of the boys; that through the season they are able to learn to make friends, help with the free time they may have, work as a team, acquire sportsmanship and learn baseball.

Parents should realize and take into consideration the time and effort it takes to work with these boys. No doubt most fathers are anxious for their sons to play ball, but if asked to manage a team would they take the time? Chances are they would not be as anxious to manage a team as they would to have their child play.

To most boys playing means quite a lot. The games should not be ruined by rude and impertinent parents.

These boys like to have cheering and appreciation shown. To go to a game and have parents ride, swear and get mean with the boys only ends in anger.

These parents should stay home. They only belittle themselves.

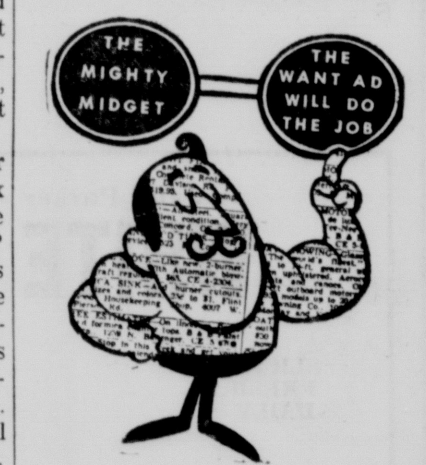

If they act as such with players on the opposite team how would they feel if someone did this to their son. Surely, if they are any kind of a parent, they would not appreciate it.

There is certainly no room for this type of parent. What have they accomplished after it is over? When a child is spoken to in a rude manner, what is he to say? A child cannot be blamed in this situation, but the adolescent parent can.

Remember these boys are only 9 to 12 years old.

Don't Start Forest Fire

As usual at this time of year the sound, smell and sight of a forest fire are readily available for any tourist who has never heard, smelled or seen one before.

Already this summer there have been serious fires in forests. Forests are valuable and forest fires are expensive to fight.

There will be many more forest fires this summer and this autumn, too. Not only will lightning start some but careless tourists — who either won't read signs or who can't concentrate when they do — can be counted on to accidentally start others.

The safety rules are so easy to follow that it's surprising lightning isn't the only cause of forest fires. All a person really has to do is make sure he lights his campfire in a safe place and is positive it is out when he leaves it. If he does that and if he isn't a careless smoker, chances are he won't ever have the memory of a forest fire burning on his conscience.

End of Crew Cut?

A crew cut is a haircut which makes a man look about as trim as a peach. A brush cut is about the same, and for years many have been wondering where the difference lies.

No matter — the days of both those hair styles for men may be numbered now that a South Dakota court has decreed all juvenile first offenders are to be punished by having their heads shaved.

The court apparently assumes that a juvenile with a shaved head will be a juvenile who will feel just awful about whatever it was he did.

As a shaved head is not much more nude than one with a crew cut, it is fairly apparent that those men who pay to have their hair cut very short were insulted in absentia by the South Dakota court. The decision should make them bristle.

Perils of Summer

Perils of summertime living are such that the average citizen has to be more on his toes than usual these days. A quick glance at weekend events proves this.

First of all, the accidents. There are far more than usual at this time of year. Not only automobile accidents, either. There are drownings, injuries from new machines like power lawn mowers, and heart attacks as well as bumps and bruises from too vigorous participation in summer sports.

Certain types of law-breaking also become more frequent during the hot weather months. Those involving liquor, for instance.

As for accidents, it bears repeating that the use of ordinary common sense can prevent most of them. During the summer more people than usual are driving on the highways. Therefore why not exercise more caution than usual?

Non-swimmers should never forget that they will drown if they venture into water beyond their depth, particularly if they are alone or with other non-swimmers. But still there are otherwise sensible people who risk their lives to keep cool.

Also worth noting are power lawn mowers, those wonderful but terribly dangerous labor-saving devices. They should be avoided like the plague by those who do not know how to operate them. They can and do cut off unwary fingers, toes, hands, and even feet. Children should be especially wary of them, but they will not be unless an adult is around to remind them.

And there are the avoidable disasters that come to people of all ages who suddenly become very energetic when the warm weather arrives. It's wonderful to play golf, unless you have a bad heart that cannot stand the graff of a long hill or a sudden temper tantrum after a missed two-foot putt.

Yes, summer can be wonderful, for those who know how to handle it.

Things We Could Do Without

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things we could all do without:

Career women who demand equal status with men, but don't do their fair share of pushing while going through a revolving door.

Girls with lipstick that makes them look like Dracula's daughter at mid-day.

Middle-aged ladies who say, "Oh fudge," or, "My, isn't that yummy!"

Girls who say they never eat anything but a smidgen of tuna fish salad for lunch, but always order a one-pound sirloin steak when you take them to dinner. People who buy astrology books and also insist professional wrestling is on the level.

Bermuda shorts in the office. Cocktail guests who draw diagrams on your living room walls while trying to explain the principles of nuclear fission.

All snarly little dogs that look like ambulant mobs—and sneak up and bit your ankle if you turn your back.

Parents who brag of being able to help their kids do their homework in Algebra.

Friends who never have any thing smaller than a $20 bill when we ride with them in a cab.

Heat waves Monday through Friday followed by rainy weekends.

Any man over 50 with a full crop of hair and all his own teeth. People too dainty to pick up fried chicken in their hands and eat it.

Airplane hostesses who won't bring you lukewarm tea until every other passenger has been served hot coffee.

Men's shoes without shoelaces, and secretaries who come to work wearing ballet slippers.

Magazines in multicolored inks that come off on your hands and make them look like five-fingered rainbows.

Men who always have a folded handkerchief tucked in their breast pocket.

Drivers behind you who honk their horns impatiently the moment the light turns green.

Paperback books that cost more than hard cover books used to.

All girls over 25 who wear tight sweaters and all men over 30 who wear tight pants.

Any party at which they pass out silly hats to get you in the right spirit of fun.

Overnight guests who forget to bring a toothbrush and get mad if you offer them an old one instead of a new one.

Doctors who can't find out what's ailing you without first sending you to a hospital where they give you 27 specialized tests.

Wives who take judo lessons. Any woman who proclaims in public her desire to be the first of her sex to land on the moon.

Yes, from all these, dear Lord, deliver us. Amen!

A YOUNG Polish lad came over to the U. S. A. in the steamer in 1923. Now, forty years later, he was living in great luxury in Miami Beach. "Only in America could a thing like this happen," he exulted to a new acquaintance. "Forty years ago I didn't have a penny to my name. Today I'm a partner of the firm of Horowitz and McCarthy. And this is the most wonderful part of all: I'm McCarthy!"

Caskie Stinnett reports that the proprietor of a back-date magazine shop had a visit recently from a very young doctor, who had just hung out his shingle, and who was in search of a pile of magazines "at least five years old." Asked if he wanted any particular periodical, the doctor explained, "I just want something suitable for my waiting room. Look: if you had just started practice, would YOU want all your patients to know it?"

Robert Q. Lewis explained what's eating a frequently sozzled Broadway actor: he has the bourbonic plague. Robert Q. also defines a pessimist as a noodnik who, when opportunity knocks, complains about the noise.

I have good, thick hair, but from time to time I notice one or two patches of baldness which disappear after a few months.

Does it mean I will be bald?

S.D.M. Louisiana
Dear Mr. M.: These patches of baldness are called "alopecia areata". This can occur in people with any underlying disease of the scalp. Sometimes it is associated with a period of emotional upset.

The loss of hair seems to occur more during the winter.

With or without special medication, the hair slowly returns to normal. It does not mean that baldness is inevitable.

Can anything be done for teeth-grinding? I go to sleep and wake in the morning with a tired jaw.

A.L.W. Ohio
Dear Miss W.: Many people, particularly when over-anxious, tense, grind their teeth during the day and even while they sleep at night. This is called "bruxism."

Dentists say that bruxism is rare among patients who are relaxed.

A tired jaw is not the only disadvantage of grinding the teeth. The constant pressure may wear away the enamel of the teeth, sometimes causing them to loosen. More important is the damage to underlying bone and gum tissue.

Plastic "night guards" are effective in controlling bruxism. They are comfortable, lightweight and molded to fit the upper teeth. They are usually worn while the patient sleeps.

You should consult your dentist about this helpful device.

Is there a possibility that the beginning of a coronary heart attack could be painless?

BEST-OF-SHOW — Miss Ruth Montelius, Route 1, Circleville, a relative newcomer in the field of floral art, was awarded the purple rosette for her entry in the "Let's Go Fishin'" class at the Pickaway County Fair Flower Show Tuesday. The judge, Mrs. James Jackson, said of this Best-of-Show arrangement: "Subtly imaginative." Miss Montelius is a rose fancier, a member of the Columbus Rose Society and a member of the Circleville Art League. She is pictured here with her winning entry.

Miss Ruth Montelius Wins Purple Rosette For Her Best-of-Show Arrangement at Fair

Miss Ruth Montelius won the purple rosette for her Best-of-Show arrangement which was entered in the "Let's Go Fishin'" class at the first of the Pickaway County Fair flower shows Tuesday.

The arrangement was lauded by the judge, Mrs. James Jackson, as an imaginative work of art. Miss Montelius had combined wisteria vines for line with split rhododendron foliage.

The lead container simulate a pond. The base on which the container rested was a large flat stone.

The flower show, simply staged, was a quality show with 66 flower specimen entries, 49 artistic entries and 19 houseplants.

In the educational division there were 70 named horticultural specimens including trees, shrubs and evergreens.

The exhibit of garden tools and Pest and Insect controls was through the courtesy of the Circleville Hardware Co.

Dear Abby: She Wants a Rebate!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I married on the rebound and it didn't work out. Now I find that I have fallen in love with another man, and I see no reason why I should spend the rest of my life trapped in a loveless marriage. We have no children. The other man has never been married. Should I just pack and leave? Or should I tell my husband what I have in mind? He suspects nothing. When he finds me gone I suppose it will hurt him, but I think, in the long run, it would be kinder. What do you think? Don't try to talk me into staying with my husband. My mind is made up.

LEAVING FOR LOVE
DEAR LEAVING: Aren't you mistaking "cowardice" for kindness? Don't just "pack and leave". Tell your husband what your intentions are.

DEAR ABBY: My parents are on this health food kick. Can you imagine anything more depressing than going to the refrigerator and seeing nothing but yogurt, honey, sugarless jells and dietetic soft drinks? There is nothing in the house but wheat germ, soy bread and skim milk. I know it's supposed to be "healthy", but I can't seem to develop a taste for this kind of food. Can you help me?

SICK OF HEALTH FOOD
DEAR SICK: Perhaps if you understood more about health food, and why it has become so popular, you'd develop a "taste" for it. Ask your parents to give you a little "food" for thought.

DEAR ABBY: I love my husband and would do anything in the world for him, but oh, Abby—his mother! She is 63, intelligent and in excellent health, but she doesn't know what to do with herself. She calls me every day to "go shopping" with her. Now I wouldn't mind "shopping" with her if she would only buy something. We have spent hours shopping for dresses, hats, shoes, and furniture, and she has never bought a thing. When the clerks see us coming they run and hide in the back room. It's very humiliating.

I can't refuse to go shopping with her, but it is such a ridiculous waste of time, I am disgusted. She is wearing me out. What should I do?

WORN OUT
DEAR WORN: Instead of helping her kill time, show her how to use time constructively. The Red Cross, her own church auxiliary and countless worth-while volunteer groups need women with her energy. And she needs THEM even more.

DEAR ABBY: To "Young Mother" with the stolen grape. I wish I knew your name so I could be sure you never brought your child to my house. Once a child, who

50,000 U.S. Troops Stationed in Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 50,000 U.S. military men are in South Korea today, including the two combat divisions deployed beside South Korean units along the 150-mile width of the peninsula facing the Red Korean army.

DEB SHOP CHATTER

Dear Dottie Quix: I have a problem, have struggled hard to solve it alone, but it is becoming too much for me and I now find I must seek advice from someone. I have been married several years, my husband says I am a good housekeeper, the children like my cookies, even my mother-in-law says I bake good pies . . . but I am unhappy.

I do all my own work and sometimes after dinner I sit down and run up a little dress or trim a hat to wear to bridge club. They look like the pictures in the magazines but nobody ever whistles at me or gives me a compliment. What do I do now?

Confused.

Dear Confused: Your problem may seem a big one to you, but honestly it is very simple. You are giving a little too much and not taking enough for yourself. What you really need is to take yourself down to THE DEB SHOP and buy yourself an outfit, they carry such lovely things, and the prices will not disturb your budget. Would you believe you can get a smart dark cotton for only $14.98? A wisp of veiling for a hat, only $1.98? Gloves, $2.00, stockings, $1.35? Add this all up and you will have only spent about $25.00.

The dress might be one of the new GAY GIBSON'S with the pleated skirt, washable and drip-dry. Or maybe you would like the two piece seersucker in rich, dark shades. Or the printed cotton shirt-dress. The stockings are from the MOJUD collection of beautiful shades, so sheer you can hardly tell you have them on! The hat is a GLAD HAT and just covers your head. The gloves are STRETCHIES. See them today and don't forget the place, THE DEB SHOP.

Best of luck,
Dottie

PRINCESS AND COURT — Tonya Sue Raymond (center), 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Raymond, 328 E. Mound St., reigned as Princess of this year's Homecoming at Derby. She also was named Little Miss Fourth of July at the annual celebration in Ashville this year. Her sponsor was Eloise's Beauty Shop. The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern politicians have attacked President Kennedy's civil rights bill, now in Congress, from seven main directions.

But Mississippians particularly have personally attacked the President and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Although the announced purpose of the bill is to guarantee Negroes equal treatment, the Southerners, all Democrats, have spent little time on Negroes' rights.

Here are the seven directions they've taken so far in statements at congressional committee hearings:

The Kennedys are trying to grab more power and have encouraged the Negroes' demonstrations; Communists must be mixed up in the Negroes' activities; and the bill is unconstitutional, is a shortcut to tyranny and would deprive all Americans of personal and property rights.

The most controversial part of the bill — the one which has brought the most strenuous Southern objections — involves public accommodations.

It would ban discrimination against Negroes in business places catering to the public, such as stores, restaurants, motels.

The personal attacks on the President and his brother came from three Mississippians — Gov. Ross Barnett, Atty. Gen. Joe T. Patterson and Sen. John F. Stennis — and from Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace.

Barnett accused the President of "sowing seeds of hate and violence," said his brother is personally responsible for "putting mobs in the street," and blamed both Kennedys for encouraging demonstrations, sit-ins and local law violations.

Patterson said Robert Kennedy has "demonstrated his immaturity, irresponsibility and fiendish delight" in wielding power and that the two Kennedys are "far more responsible" for racial violence than the "ruthless leaders who are promoting racial unrest."

Stennis called the civil rights bill a "colossal grab for power by the attorney general."

Wallace accused the President of bringing the nation "to the brink of civil war" by what he termed an attempt to appease the leaders of the Negro civil rights demonstrations.

South Carolina Gov. Donald Russell denounced the bill as "coercive legislation" which will "breed resistance and perhaps violence."

Plastic Shoe Last Plant Expansion Set

CINCINNATI (AP) — Vulcan Corp. announced today it is expanding its Brockton, Mass., shoe last plant by adding a division to make lasts from plastic.

The Cincinnati-based shoe company has been making Vulcan-Plastik shoe lasts at plants in Walnut Ridge, Ark., and Blaine, Ohio. Vulcan officials said the Brockton plant will continue to make wooden shoe lasts along with plants at Johnson City, N.Y., and Portsmouth, Ohio.

Louisiana Rep. Joe D. Waggoner Jr. said the President has issued an "open invitation to mass violence" by warning that if Congress fails to enact his bill Negroes will seek a "remedy" in the streets.

Wallace, South Carolina Sen. Strom Thurmond and Arkansas Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett thought they saw Communist influence behind Negro demands for equal rights. None proved anything of the kind.

Sens. Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina and James O. Eastland of Mississippi, members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, hit the bill from another direction.

Ervin called it a "short-cut to government tyranny" and Eastland denounced it as a "complete blueprint for a totalitarian state."

Ervin, once a justice on the North Carolina Supreme Court, in civil rights fights in Congress over the years usually has challenged the constitutionality of a bill. He challenged this one, too.

He said it would deprive all Americans of personal and property rights.

Kennedy, anticipating this kind of argument when he sent his civil rights bill to Congress along with his message explaining it, said: "Abraham Lincoln, in issuing the Emancipation Proclamation 100 years ago, was also accused of violating the property rights of slave-owners. Indeed, there is an age-old saying that 'property has its duties as well as its rights.'"

PLACING DRESSES — Jean Grover, Ross County home economics agent, is picking a winner out of the top 10 places in the cotton dress division of the girls' 4-H show. The winner will be announced at the style revue Thursday night, but the top 10 in each division is posted in alphabetical order in the 4-H and Grange Building.

OLD TIMER — John McCabe (left) of Williamsport, Clyde Moody (center) of Groveport, and Roy Wadlington, Whisler, admire an ancient, all wood cultivator. Although the combined years in agriculture probably totaled well in excess of 200 for the three Pickaway County farmers, none of them had ever plowed corn with such a tool. The cultivator belongs to J. L. Chilcote, Circleville.

Prehistoric Indian Earthworks Displayed in Newark Vicinity

EDITOR'S NOTE: With the cooperation of the Auto Club of Newark, the Columbus Automobile Club suggests this "Trip of the Week" for readers of the Herald. Next week's trip will be to the Muskingum lakes.

In the vicinity of Newark are some of the nation's most famous prehistoric Indian earthworks.

Portions of this mound system, originally covering more than two square miles, are preserved in two state parks. The mounds are the work of the Hopewell Indians, who lived 750 years ago. They resided in permanent villages and had a well developed social system.

Just south of Newark is Flint Ridge State Memorial, main source of flint supply used by prehistoric inhabitants of the area.

Newark was founded in 1802 and named by its founder for his home town in New Jersey. Among attractions in the Newark area are:

THREE LAKES and reservoirs of considerable size. One is Buckeye Lake, including 4,000 acres of water and land in the park area. It has all the usual lake facilities as well as a commercial amusement park. Dillon Lake and Hoover Reservoir are other nearby attractions with picnic facilities.

Just west of Newark is picturesque Granville, with a New England "flavor" reminiscent of the Massachusetts town for which it was named in 1805. This is the home of Ohio's second oldest independent college, Denison, founded in 1831. It is located on hills overlooking the town.

Granville also offers many attractive old homes and St. Luke's Church. Built in 1837, the church contains most of its original furnishings.

At Zanesville, southwest of Newark and near Dillon Dam, visitors may see the widely known "Y" Bridge, of a design unique in the United States.

Dawes Arboretum is 535-acre tract of both virgin forest and formal plantings, privately-owned but open to the public. Licking County Museum displays antique furnishings and collections of local art.

Good highways give access to the Newark area from all directions. The Columbus Auto Club suggests this routing from Circleville: U. S. 22 to Lancaster; Ohio Route 37 to junction of Ohio Route 15; Ohio Route 16 to Newark. On the return trip from Zanesville: U. S. 22 to Circleville.

Newark was founded in 1802 and named by its founder for his home town in New Jersey. Among attractions in the Newark area are:

THREE LAKES and reservoirs of considerable size. One is Buckeye Lake, including 4,000 acres of water and land in the park area. It has all the usual lake facilities as well as a commercial amusement park, Dillon Lake and Hoover Reservoir are other nearby attractions with picnic facilities.

Just west of Newark is picturesque Granville, with a New England "flavor" reminiscent of the Massachusetts town for which it was named in 1805. This is the home of Ohio's second oldest independent college, Denison, founded in 1831. It is located on hills overlooking the town.

Granville also offers many attractive old homes and St. Luke's Church. Built in 1837, the church contains most of its original furnishings.

At Zanesville, southwest of Newark and near Dillon Dam, visitors may see the widely known "Y" Bridge, of a design unique in the United States.

Dawes Arboretum is 535-acre tract of both virgin forest and formal plantings, privately-owned but open to the public. Licking County Museum displays antique furnishings and collections of local art.

Good highways give access to the Newark area from all directions. The Columbus Auto Club suggests this routing from Circleville: U. S. 22 to Lancaster; Ohio Route 37 to junction of Ohio Route 16; Ohio Route 16 to Newark. On the return trip from Zanesville: U. S. 22 to Circleville

Ohio Librarian Eyes Future

Rhodes' Austerity May Abolish Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Come September, state Librarian Walter T. Brahm will complete his 21st year on the job.

Whether he will continue probably depends on what the "Little Hoover" state government efficiency study recommends in connection with the library, and what the Rhodes administration does about it.

Brahm, who lived in Massillon, Cleveland and Toledo before settling in the Columbus suburb of Worthington, said today he has not officially resigned his $11,280-a-year job. But he added that he has discussed the matter with the State Library Board.

There have been published reports that the "Little Hoover commission" will recommend abolition of the library board and that Brahm has informed board members he will resign Jan. 1.

The soft-spoken librarian declined today to comment on the abolition report, saying: "When the Little Hoover Commission makes its report, there will be time enough to say something."

Brahm says he did not take issue with the administration when his budget was trimmed, but did challenge Sen. William H. Deddens, R-Hamilton, when the latter suggested further cuts.

The library's two-year budget from state funds and the rest from federal money and fines and services. There are 73 full-time and 19 part-time employees.

Reports say the library's space in the 11th floor of the Ohio Department Building in downtown Columbus might be given to the state highway department which wants even more a skyscraper than the new building being constructed for it. Books presumably would be relocated at other state agencies and local libraries.

The state library was set up 146 years ago.

The TV Cadet Band, consisting of 85 students from the elementary schools, will appear in the Commercial Point Homecoming Parade at 10:30 a. m. Saturday. A short concert will be presented following the parade.

The stage dance orchestra will perform at the Queen Contest of the Commercial Point Homecoming on Friday evening. A concert will be given at 7:30 p. m.

The cadet band, dance orchestra and the new 39-member Scioto Twp. beginner band will present concerts at the Commercial Point Men's Club annual chicken barbecue and ice cream social on Aug. 16.

The cadet band, dance orchestra and the new 40-member Ashville beginner band will perform at the combined Ashville-Walnut Band Boosters ice cream social at the Ashville Park on Aug. 12.

William Pangburn, director, said that plans were being made for appearances at the Ohio State Fair, Columbus.

Taft Seeks Change In JFK Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, says of legislation to further President Kennedy's area redevelopment program that he believes "it is more important to put civil rights guarantees in the bill than it is to pass the bill."

Taft told a House Banking Committee hearing Monday he intended to offer a substitute measure for the one under consideration. Taft's bill would include stronger provisions forbidding applicants for loans and grants from the Area Redevelopment Administration to practice discrimination.

Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. remarked at the hearing that he wondered "if this isn't an effort to inject the civil rights issue to defeat the bill."

Scioto Band Boosters Schedule Meet Monday

The Scioto Twp. Band Boosters of Commercial Point and surrounding area will meet 8 p. m. Monday in the school.

Final plans for the ice cream social will be made during the session.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, July 31st, the 212th day of 1963. There are 153 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1769, Gov. Francis Bernard sailed from Boston for his home in England. He is chiefly remembered because he did more in his nine year rule than all other governors combined to irritate the people and promote discord and disunity.

On this date: In 1777, the Marquis de Lafayette was commissioned as major general in the American Army.

In 1849, Benjamin Chambers Sr., patented the first breech-loading cannon.

In 1929, the Graf Zepplin began its trans-Atlantic journey with 19 passengers, a stowaway, and a crew of 40—and reached Lakehurst, New Jersey five days later.

In 1941, the Japanese occupied French Indo-China during World War II.

In 1943 U.S. troops battled Japanese forces near Munda, New Georgia, during World War II.

Ten years ago: Veteran Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio died in New York of cancer.

Five years ago: A contempt of Congress citation against New England industrialist Bernard Goldfine was unanimously voted by the U.S. Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.

One year ago: Britain announced agreement had been reached to form an independent federation of Malaysia that would include the remnants of the British empire in southeast Asia.

Chillicothe Escapees Are Nabbed by FBI

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Two escapees from the Federal Reformatory who made their way north to Delaware County, 70 miles from here, are back inside the walls after about 24 hours of shaky liberty.

FBI agents captured Donald Hash, 24, of Cleveland and Eugene T. Swatling, 25, of Clinton.

Luggage Rack Hit by Auto; Boy Is Killed

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—A luggage rack that dropped off an automobile on the Ohio Turnpike set up an accident that killed a 6-year-old boy and hospitalized his mother and three other children Tuesday.

Killed in the accident eight miles west of the Sandusky-Norwalk interchange was John Weber. In fair condition in Bellevue Hospital in nearby Bellvue were Mrs. Marcia Weber, 34, and her children, Constance, 9, William, 8, and Robin, 2.

The luggage rack dropped off a car driven by Vernon Post, 36, of Long Island, N.Y. Both he and Mrs. Weber were driving in the eastbound lane. Witnesses told the Highway Patrol that Post had stopped and was running back to retrieve the rack when Mrs. Weber, driving a van-type car, swerved the car but it hit the rack and turned end over end.

Public, Private Images Vary

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A movie star's public image is one thing. Often, the private image is another.

If you have seen John Wayne on screen, then you know the real John Wayne.

Most people don't know the real Bing Crosby. If you have seen the old groaner trading quips with Bob Hope, you've pegged him as an extrovert. Wrong. Bing is shy.

That's why he spends most of his time fishing in the wilds of Idaho or off Baja California.

Jack Benny, one of the funniest comedians alive when on, is just the opposite off. He's a laugher, usually at anything George Burns says.

A star's public image has a peculiar effect on boxoffice. Most famous example is the Liz Taylor-Eddie Fisher-Debbie Reynolds triangle a few years ago.

Liz' public image is that of the femme fatale. Her movie price went up to a million dollars after the headlines broke.

Debbie, the All-American girl, moved easily into the image of the suffering wife. Her next year was the best of her career.

But Eddie's career nosedived. He was the All-American boy crooner miscast as the All-American philanderer. Now, he's doing better because he got public sympathy as the wronged party in the "Cleopatra" shenanigans.

Some public images are so phony that press agents shudder every time a new magazine article appears.

Burke Named To Head Cleveland Tax Study

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 523-member Citizens' Tax Committee headed by former Mayor Thomas A. Burke has been appointed to study the city's financial status and make recommendations on future money needs and ways to provide for them.

A principal aim of the committee, which begins the study next week, is to grant pay raises to city employees. Another is to suggest possible economies in departmental operations.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, says of legislation to further President Kennedy's area redevelopment program that he believes "it is more important to put civil rights guarantees in the bill than it is to pass the bill."

Taft told a House Banking Committee hearing Monday he intended to offer a substitute measure for the one under consideration. Taft's bill would include stronger provisions forbidding applicants for loans and grants from the Area Redevelopment Administration to practice discrimination.

Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. remarked at the hearing that he wondered "if this isn't an effort to inject the civil rights issue to defeat the bill."

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, July 31st, the 212th day of 1963. There are 153 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1769, Gov. Francis Bernard sailed from Boston for his home in England. He is chiefly remembered because he did more in his nine year rule than all other governors combined to irritate the people and promote discord and disunity.

On this date: In 1777, the Marquis de Lafayette was commissioned as major general in the American Army.

In 1849, Benjamin Chambers Sr., patented the first breech-loading cannon.

In 1929, the Graf Zepplin began its trans-Atlantic journey with 19 passengers, a stowaway, and a crew of 40—and reached Lakehurst, New Jersey five days later.

In 1941, the Japanese occupied French Indo-China during World War II.

In 1943 U.S. troops battled Japanese forces near Munda, New Georgia, during World War II.

Ten years ago: Veteran Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio died in New York of cancer.

Five years ago: A contempt of Congress citation against New England industrialist Bernard Goldfine was unanimously voted by the U.S. Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.

One year ago: Britain announced agreement had been reached to form an independent federation of Malaysia that would include the remains of the British empire in southeast Asia.

Fair's Fruit Show Limited; Fee Family Earns Acclaim

Exhibits in the Fruit Show at the Pickaway County Fair this year included apples and grapes. Members of the Fee Family were top winners in the majority of the varieties of apples.

The past severe winter was blamed for the lack of peaches and other fruits that normally add interest to the judging.

Awards, based on maturity, freedom from disease, uniformity and true type or variety were:

Luggage Rack Hit by Auto; Boy Is Killed

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—A luggage rack that dropped off an automobile on the Ohio Turnpike set up an accident that killed a 6-year-old boy and hospitalized his mother and three other children Tuesday.

Killed in the accident eight miles west of the Sandusky-Norwalk interchange was John Weber, 10, of Sandusky.

In fair condition in Bellevue Hospital in nearby Bellvue were Mrs. Marcia Weber, 34, and her children, Constance, 9, William, 8, and Robin, 2.

The luggage rack dropped off a car driven by Vernon Post, 36, of Long Island, N.Y. Both he and Mrs. Weber were driving in the eastbound lane. Witnesses told the Highway Patrol that Post had stopped and was running back to retrieve the rack when Mrs. Weber, driving a van-type car, swerved the car but it hit the rack and turned end over end.

Ky., separately about for miles apart Tuesday. The two, both in prison for transporting stolen cars interstate, had walked away from a dairy detail Monday morning.

Public, Private Images Vary

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A movie star's public image is one thing. Often, the private image is another.

If you have seen John Wayne on screen, then you know the real John Wayne.

Most people don't know the real Bing Crosby. If you have seen the old groaner trading quips with Bob Hope, you've pegged him as an extrovert. Wrong. Bing is shy.

That's why he spends most of his time fishing in the wilds of Idaho or off Baja California.

Jack Benny, one of the funniest comedians alive when on, is just the opposite off. He's a laugher, usually at anything George Burns says.

A star's public image has a peculiar effect on boxoffice. Most famous example is the Liz Taylor-Eddie Fisher-Debbie Reynolds triangle a few years ago.

Liz' public image is that of the femme fatale. Her movie price went up to a million dollars after the headlines broke.

Debbie, the All-American girl, moved easily into the image of the suffering wife. Her next year was the best of her career.

But Eddie's career nosedived. He was the All-American boy crooner miscast as the All-American philanderer. Now, he's doing better because he got public sympathy as the wronged party in the "Cleopatra" shenanigans.

Some public images are so phony that press agents shudder every time a new magazine article appears.

Burke Named To Head Cleveland Tax Study

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 523-member Citizens' Tax Committee headed by former Mayor Thomas A. Burke has been appointed to study the city's financial status and make recommendations on future money needs and ways to provide for them.

A principal aim of the committee, which begins the study next week, is to grant pay raises to city employees. Another is to suggest possible economies in departmental operations.

Porter Martin Wins 4 Races In Opening Harness Session

THEY'RE OFF — Veteran Starter Hank Butler brings the field in front of the Grandstands for the first race yesterday during the Speed program at the Pickaway County Fair. Harness fans saw 10 well filled heats. Circleville's Porter Martin topped the field with four wins in as many heats. George (Pug) Hood, judge at Scioto Downs was the presiding judge. Gunner Musselman and Glenn McCoy were associate judges.

By STEVE JONES
"The home team wears white", said presiding judge George (Pug) Hood at yesterday's opening session of harness racing at the 1963 Pickaway County Fair.

And Porter Martin, wearing his white, red and blue colors, made the day's speed program a home team affair. He won four of the 10 heats.

In the second race he reined Try Yucatan to wins in both heats. In the third he duplicated the feat with Wolfe's Pilot.

Pickaway County Harness fans saw 10 well filled heats take off behind the mobile starting gate of Hank Butler, veteran race starter from Waverly.

AND THE drivers and their steeds provided the railbirds and Grandstand fans with 10 thrilling finishes. An estimated bleacher crowd of more than 250 persons watched the races.

Winning the blanket donated by Kenny Hamman Ford in the first race was Eyre Reid, owned and driven by R. Harper of Malaga, O. The 2-year-old pacer posted the fastest time of the two division, four heat race when it went the mile in 2:12.4 in the first heat of the second division. Harper brought it back to win the second heat in 2:13.1.

In the first division, Mr. Faker, owned by W. Schmidthorst and C. Taylor of Cincinnati, and driven by Cliff Albertson Jr., led a 11 the way in the first heat to win in 2:14. Irish Will finished second while Thaddeus was third.

The same three horses were in the money in the second heat as they all battled down to the wire, with Irish Will finishing the race in 2:13.1. Thaddeus nosed out Mr. Faker for second position while the first heat winner finished third.

The second race belonged to Try Yucatan all the way.

In the first heat Martin brought his steed on top early and then gave ground at the half to Supreme Brownie, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hughes.

TRY YUCATAN pulled out as the field came into the stretch to regain the lead, pacing the mile in 2:08.4. In second was Sally Jean, owned by Orville W. Arnett while Supreme Brownie was third.

In the second heat, Martin never lost the lead. He got out fast behind the gate and led by more than a length for the entire race. The time of the mile was 2:10. Second place went to Supreme Brownie while Bobbie W. owned by G. W. Osborne of Winchester finished third. The blanket was presented by the Sturm and Dillard Co.

The third race was even more Martin's than the second. His heat times of 2:09 and 2:10 behind Wolfe's Pilot were not even threatened by first division winners, Run Around, 2:15, and Big Axe, 2:14.3.

Placing second behind Run Around, owned by Andres J. Yeazel Jr., of Lebanon was Big Axe, owned by R. D. and E. P. Miller of Washington C. H. El-don Spearman's Mahazel Tov was third.

In the second heat Mahazel Tov was second. My Valiant Lady owned by Ann Ricard of Portage finished fourth but was placed third when Dorick, owned by Earl Purcell, failed to lose ground on an extended break in the stretch.

True Sam, owned and driven by Thurston A. Miller of Croton, finished second both times behind Wolfe's Pilot while Jay Scott finished third in the first heat and Wilson Flash was third in the second heat. The blanket was donated by Schaeffer's Tire Shop.

DASHING to a win in the quarter horse race was Gary Patrick of Ashville, on Dee Jay, owned by Darwin Hay, also of Ashville. He was out front by a good two lengths as the short distance runners came under the wire in the 220 yard dash.

Second place went to Junior Shelpman's mount while Butch Ford jockeyed his steed to a third place win.

A 400 yard dash is scheduled to cap the speed program today.

Outrider for yesterday's races was Miss Linda Warner, riding My Don Juan. Clerks of the race were Miss Ann Short and Miss Mary Clare Short.

Ably handling the announcing chores was Willie Leist of Circleville while Scott Radcliff, Fred Mace and Steve Jones were the timers.

Earl Martin kept the track in shape for the races while the Scioto Downs water wagon kept the dust under control. Shoulder pads and head numbers were also loaned for the races by Scioto Downs.

Members of the speed committee are Ralph McDill, chairman, Harold Nagel, Wayne Martin and John Fissell, secretary.

The grandstand and clubhouse at New York's Aqueduct racetrack cover seven acres.

In the second race he reined Try Yucatan to wins in both heats. In the third he duplicated the feat with Wolfe's Pilot.

Pickaway County Harness fans saw 10 well filled heats take off behind the mobile starting gate of Hank Butler, veteran race starter from Waverly.

AND THE drivers and their steeds provided the railbirds and Grandstand fans with 10 thrilling finishes. An estimated bleacher crowd of more than 250 persons watched the races.

Winning the blanket donated by Kenny Hannan Ford in the first race was Eyre Reid, owned and driven by R. Harper of Malaga, O. The 2-year-old pacer posted the fastest time of the two divisions, four heat race when it went the mile in 2:12.4 in the first heat of the second division. Harper brought it back to win the second heat in 2:13.1.

In the first division, Mr. Faker, owned by W. Schmidthorst and C. Taylor of Cincinnati, and driven by Cliff Albertson Jr., led all the way in the first heat to win in 2:14. Irish Will finished second while Thaddeus was third.

The same three horses were in the money in the second heat as they all battled down to the wire, with Irish Will finishing the race in 2:13.1. Thaddeus nosed out Mr. Faker for second position while the first heat winner finished third.

The second race belonged to Try Yucatan all the way.

In the first heat Martin brought his steed on top early and then gave ground at the half to Supreme Brownie, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hughes.

TRY YUCATAN pulled out as the field came into the stretch to regain the lead, pacing the mile in 2:08.4. In second was Sally Jean, owned by Orville W. Arnett while Supreme Brownie was third.

In the second heat, Martin never lost the lead. He got out fast behind the gate and led by more than a length for the entire race. The time of the mile was 2:10.

Second place went to Supreme Brownie while Bobbie W. owned by G. W. Osborne of Winchester finished third. The blanket was presented by the Sturm and Dillard Co.

The third race was even more Martin's than the second. His heat times of 2:09 and 2:10 behind Wolfe's Pilot were not even threatened by first division winners, Run Around, 2:15, and Big Axe, 2:14.3.

Placing second behind Run Around, owned by Andres J. Yeazel Jr., of Lebanon was Big Axe, owned by R. D. and E. P. Miller of Washington C. H. Eldon Spearman's Mahazel Tov was third.

In the second heat Mahazel Tov was second. My Valiant Lady owned by Ann Ricard of Portage finished fourth but was placed third when Dorick, owned by Earl Purcell, failed to loose ground on an extended break in the stretch.

True Sam, owned and driven by Thurston A. Miller of Croton, finished second both times behind Wolfe's Pilot while Jay Scott finished third in the first heat and Wilson Flash was third in the second heat. The blanket was donated by Schaeffer's Tire Shop.

DASHING to a win in the quarter horse race was Gary Patrick of Ashville, on Dee Jay, owned by Darwin Hay, also of Ashville. He was out front by a good two lengths as the short distance runners came under the wire in the 220 yard dash.

Second place went to Junior Shelpman's mount while Butch Ford jockeyed his steed to a third place win.

A 400 yard dash is scheduled to cap the speed program today.

Outrider for yesterday's races was Miss Linda Warner, riding My Don Juan. Clerks of the race were Miss Ann Short and Miss Mary Clare Short.

Ably handling the announcing chores was Willie Leist of Circleville while Scott Radcliff, Fred Mace and Steve Jones were the timers.

Earl Martin kept the track in shape for the races while the Scioto Downs water wagon kept the dust under control. Shoulder pads and head numbers were also loaned for the races by Scioto Downs.

Members of the speed committee are Ralph McDill, chairman, Harold Nagel, Wayne Martin and John Fissell, secretary.

The grandstand and clubhouse at New York's Aqueduct racetrack cover seven acres.

Kiwanis Trips Bakers, Tie for Third Round

Kiwanis, first round winners by means of a playoff with Lindsey Bakery, find themselves in a similar position. By beating the Bakers last night, 6-5, the Kiwanians must play Lindsey again to determine the third round champs. In other Babe Ruth Major action, GE stopped Butch, 2-1.

Tom Cassill went the distance for the winners. He allowed five runs on six hits, fanned four and walked four.

Chet Hill was touched for the loss. He was pounded for 10 hits and six runs. Hill whiffed eight and walked six.

Big Jeff Ankrom pounded out a homerun and two singles for the winners. Joe Winner banged a double and a single. Cassill managed a double and a single.

CHET HILL led in team in batting, collecting a triple. Jim Crabtree bombed a double and a single. Bobby Walisa managed three singles and George Hill drew three intentional walks.

This ends the regular season for both squads. Kiwanis managed an 8-4 overall slate and Lindsey carded a 7-5 mark.

Gary Leasure went the route for the winning GE nine, giving up three scattered singles and one run. Leasure also fanned 13 and walked six.

The Jaycees ended the season with a 6-7 mark while the Oilers are 9-4.

SPORTS Highlights

NEW YORK (AP) — Art Heyman, the most sought-after college basketball player in the country, has come to terms with the team that needs him the most—New York's lowly Knicks of the National Basketball Association.

Ankrom Outhits Cook Insurance, Wins 5-1 Tilt

Ankrom Lumber slugged out a win over Lewis Cook Insurance, 5-1, as Terry Leasure twirled a one hitter for the winning nine in Mosquito League action yesterday.

Leasure, coasting to the victory, allowed eight walks and fanned 12.

Jim Neal started for the losers and took the loss. He fanned four, firing a two-hitter for three innings and blanking the winners. Sark fanned three and walked two.

Their were no extra base blows in the entire contest. Leasure, Bob Peters, and Don Valentine poked winning singles.

SARK spoiled the no-hit bid with a single for the losers. Ankroms have finished play with a 5-2 mark, while Cooks are halted at 3-4 in the second round of the Mosquito Loop.

Mets Pull Back From Brink Of Disaster

Tracy Stallard Hurls 4-Hitter To End Long Loss Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New York Mets, who hold a first mortgage on the brink of disaster, marched back from the precipice today after ending their 22-game losing streak on the road. Tracy Stallard kept the Mets from setting an all-time record for consecutive losses away from home by spinning a four-hitter that beat Los Angeles 5-1 Tuesday night and trimmed the Dodgers' National League lead to 3½ games over San Francisco.

Willie Mays and Willie McCovey supplied the firepower for a 5-0 Giants victory over Philadelphia. It was the ninth straight triumph for the San Franciscans, who were 10 games behind Los Angeles 10 days ago.

Stallard served up Roger Maris' 61st homer and was on the mound when the Mets set a modern record for road losses by dropping their 20th straight away from the Polo Grounds.

But the 25-year-old right-hander, the winner when the Mets last won on the road June 15, may never have been sharper than on Tuesday. He allowed only two runners beyond second base in sending the front-runners down to their seventh defeat in 10 games.

The victory left the Mets tied in the record book with the Pittsburgh team of 1890 at 22 road losses.

Third-place St. Louis closed to within four games of the Dodgers by beating Cincinnati 7-5 as Ernie Broglio checked the Reds on one run in 6-1-3 innings of relief work Milwaukee bombed the Chicago Cubs 9-2 and Pittsburgh walloped Houston 8-1.

The American League-leading New York Yankees maintained their eight-game bulge by downing Kansas City 6-2, the Chicago White Sox defeated Washington 5-1, Baltimore drubbed Detroit 9-0, Minnesota took Boston 6-3 and the Los Angeles Angels edged Cleveland 6-4 in 10 innings.

The Mets, after losing 10 straight on the current road trip, collected 14 hits against the Dodgers in support of Stallard who struck out six and walked one in bringing his record to 4-9. Ken McMullen's homer spoiled his shutout. Frank Thomas hit his ninth homer, off loser Bob Miller, 7-7.

Mays slammed two doubles and a single and McCovey hit his 31st homer, a three-run shot, to back up the shutout pitching of Billy O'Dell. O'Dell, nicked for 11 Philadelphia hits, posted his first victory since June 22 while boosting his record to 11-6. McCovey regained the majors' home run lead when he connected against Ray Culp, 10-9.

Broglio, 11-7, struck out seven in his relief stint. Bill White and Charley James homered for the Cardinals, whose three-run fifth tagged Joe Nuxhall, 8-5, with the loss.

THOSE POTENT PACKERS—Despite loss of Paul Hornung, high-scoring runner and kicker, for the season, those rough, tough and versatile Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Football League, look mighty good again this year.

AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After CBS' "Beverly Hillsbillies" topped last winter's popularity ratings, the network announced that Bea Benaderet, man-hunting Cousin Pearl in the show, would star in a new series called "Ozark Widow."

This led to speculation whether television was ready for two comedies. But the title of the show has been changed to "Petticoat Junction" and it bears not the slightest resemblance to "Hillbillies."

Miss Benaderet, a skillful actress in any role, developed a new character, primarily by reading the first script 75 times.

"It is in no way at all the child of 'Beverly Hillsbillies,'" she said Tuesday. "It's comedy."

Adcock Shows New Sign of Ending Slump

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joe Adcock is showing signs of coming out of a prolonged batting slump, and that could mean good news for the Cleveland Indians.

The veteran first baseman got his first hit in 35 times at bat Sunday with a single against Kansas City, and Tuesday night he knocked in two runs with bloop singles against the Los Angeles Angels. He had hit nine homers and had 35 runs batted in before he went into his slump.

Adcock's RBIs were about the only bright points in Tuesday night's game. The Angels won 6-4 in the 10th inning after the Indians had tied things up with three runs in the eighth.

The victory moved the Angels ahead of the Indians into sixth place in the American League.

Catcher John Romano suffered a sprained thumb and may be sidelined for a while.

A bloop single by Ken Hunt off Ted Abernathy, the fourth Cleveland hurler, drove in the tie-breaking run in the 10th inning. Felix Torres started the trouble with a bouncer into the left field stands for a ground rule double. With two out Leon Wagner was walked intentionally.

Then Hunt hit his single and went to second on Willie Kirkland's throw to third base. Max Alvis threw wild trying to get Hunt at second, and Wagner went in to score.

but it's not farcical, and the comedy stems from character development."

The locale is deliberately vague so the viewer's own background and memories can place it. Bea plays an attractive, gray-haired mother of three and owner of a small town boarding house. Many plots revolve around passengers on a railroad spur line. Clothes are unobtrusively modern; accents are easy but not recognizable Deep South or Down East.

"The show walks a rather fine line between legitimate situations and comedy," Bea said. "It's tongue-in-cheek but never unkind."

ABC has dreamed up a novel introduction for its "Breaking Point" series about psychiatrists. It's a two-part story that starts on "Ben Casey" Sept. 9. The Patient is referred to the doctor in "Breaking Point," which premieres a week later at the same time. Casey then moves to Wednesday night, starting Sept. 18.

Redlegs Drop 3rd Straight

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Jim O'Toole is a lefthanded Cincinnati Reds pitcher who believes having a positive attitude is important.

"You've got to have confidence," he insists. "You take a positive attitude into a game or you get hurt. A pitcher without confidence is in trouble."

O'Toole may have some trouble staying confident—he has lost his last six decisions—and the Reds have a similar problem. They've lost their last three games—the most recent one a 7-5 defeat at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night. And that despite the Reds' four-run lead after their half of the first inning!

Manager Fred Hutchinson decided Tuesday afternoon to start Joe Nuxhall in the series-opener instead of O'Toole, who has been bothered by a charley horse. O'Toole (13-9) is to start tonight against Bob Gibson (12-4).

Stardom Due Some Collegians

Game Against Pro '11' Produces Standouts

CHICAGO (AP)—When the All-Stars and Green Bay Packers meet in football's midsummer classic Friday night, one or more of the collegians will have their names inscribed in a growing book of memories.

Year after year since the game was inaugurated in 1934, youngsters from college use the game as a stepping stone to greatness in the professional ranks.

Every member of this year's 50-man squad will go to a pro camp, 40 to the National Football League and 10 to the American League. Some will fail to make the pros, some will become journeymen players and a few will achieve the distinction of playing for a championship team and will return to face future All-Star teams in Soldier Field.

It was back in 1937 when the All-Stars defeated Green Bay 6-0. A young man named Sammy Baugh threw a 22-yard pass to Gaynell Tinsley who dashed the remaining 25 yards for the game's only score.

The following year Cecil Isbell and Johnny Kovach combined on a 39-yard touchdown pass to get the All-Stars rolling towards a 28-16 triumph over Washington.

Two years later, Isbell returned as a member of the Green Bay Packers. He threw three touchdowns passes, two to Don Hutson, and guided the Packers to a 45-28 victory.

It was in 1943 when Otto Graham, present coach of the All-Stars had his moment of glory. Graham intercepted one of Baugh's passes and ran 97 yards for a touchdown in a game which saw the All-Stars dump Washington 27-7.

Adcock Shows New Sign of Ending Slump

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joe Adcock is showing signs of coming out of a prolonged batting slump, and that could mean good news for the Cleveland Indians. The veteran first baseman got his first hit in 35 times at bat Sunday with a single against Kansas City, and Tuesday night he knocked in two runs with bloop singles against the Los Angeles Angels. He had hit nine homers and had 35 runs batted in before he went into his slump.

Adcock's RBIs were about the only bright points in Tuesday night's game. The Angels won 6-4 in the 10th inning after the Indians had tied things up with three runs in the eighth.

The victory moved the Angels ahead of the Indians into sixth place in the American League.

Catcher John Romano suffered a sprained thumb and may be sidelined for a while. A bloop single by Ken Hunt off Ted Abernathy, the fourth Cleveland hurler, drove in the tie-breaking run in the 10th inning. Felix Torres started the trouble with a bouncer into the left field stands for a ground rule double. With two out Leon Wagner was walked intentionally.

Then Hunt hit his single and went to second on Willie Kirkland's throw to third base. Max Alvis threw wild trying to get Hunt at second, and Wagner went in to score.

but it's not farcical, and the comedy stems from character development."

The locale is deliberately vague so the viewer's own background and memories can place it. Bea plays an attractive, gray-haired mother of three and owner of a small town boarding house. Many plots revolve around passengers on a railroad spur line. Clothes are unobtrusively modern; accents are easy but not recognizable Deep South or Down East.

"The show walks a rather fine line between legitimate situations and comedy," Bea said. "It's tongue-in-cheek but never unkind."

ABC has dreamed up a novel introduction for its "Breaking Point" series about psychiatrists. It's a two-part story that starts on "Ben Casey" Sept. 9. The Patient is referred to the doctor in "Breaking Point," which premieres a week later at the same time. Casey then moves to Wednesday night, starting Sept. 18.

Redlegs Drop 3rd Straight

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Jim O'Toole is a lefthanded Cincinnati Reds pitcher who believes having a positive attitude is important. "You've got to have confidence," he insists. "You take a positive attitude into a game or you get hurt. A pitcher without confidence is in trouble."

O'Toole may have some trouble staying confident—he has lost his last six decisions—and the Reds have a similar problem. They've lost their last three games—the most recent one a 7-5 defeat at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night. And that despite the Reds' four-run lead after their half of the first inning!

Manager Fred Hutchinson decided Tuesday afternoon to start Joe Nuxhall in the series-opener instead of O'Toole, who has been bothered by a charley horse. O'Toole (13-9) is to start tonight against Bob Gibson (12-4).

Stardom Due Some Collegians

Game Against Pro '11' Produces Standouts

CHICAGO (AP)—When the All-Stars and Green Bay Packers meet in football's midsummer classic Friday night, one or more of the collegians will have their names inscribed in a growing book of memories.

Year after year since the game was inaugurated in 1934, youngsters from college use the game as a stepping stone to greatness in the professional ranks.

Every member of this year's 50-man squad will go to a pro camp, 40 to the National Football League and 10 to the American League. Some will fail to make the pros, some will become journeymen players and a few will achieve the distinction of playing for a championship team and will return to face future All-Star teams in Soldier Field.

It was back in 1937 when the All-Stars defeated Green Bay 6-0. A young man named Sammy Baugh threw a 22-yard pass to Gaynell Tinsley who dashed the remaining 25 yards for the game's only score.

The following year Cecil Isbell and Johnny Kovatch combined on a 39-yard touchdown pass to get the All-Stars rolling towards a 28-16 triumph over Washington.

Two years later, Isbell returned as a member of the Green Bay Packers. He threw three touchdown passes, two to Don Hutson, and guided the Packers to a 45-28 victory.

It was in 1943 when Otto Graham, present coach of the All-Stars had his moment of glory. Graham intercepted one of Baugh's passes and ran 97 yards for a touchdown in a game which saw the All-Stars dump Washington 27-7.

Young Flower Grower Big Hit At County Fair Flower Show

Dan Rawlings, 13, cut quite a swath at the Pickaway County Fair flower show when he arrived at the show with his excellent gladiolus specimens.

He and his father are glad and dahlia men. Dan is a member of the Scioto Valley Dahlia Society, along with his dad.

Young Rawlings says he put out about 6,000 gladioli this year. He planted half of them, then waited until they had sprouted and planted the rest. He believes in deep planting. At least seven inches!

This task, which Dan and his father generally share, was all Dan's responsibility this spring because his father was ill.

THE GARDEN club ladies clustered around Dan to find out his secret of raising gladioli in dry weather. He plants deep. This eliminates staking, too. He said there had been no rain in his section until last week when they received 1 1/2 inches.

Dan's dad has 286 dahlias planted this year. Of this number 170 are different varieties.

The young gardener raises the balls, the miniatures and the pompons of the dahlias grown at the Rawlings. He himself has about 30 plants and 18 varieties.

Dan Rawlings says that he started growing flowers when he was about 6-years-old. And from looks of the flowers, indications are he'll keep at the job.

The Rawlings live near Clarksburg.

Ohio Supreme Court Judges' Offices Grow

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—While the Statehouse yard is being excavated for an underground parking garage, offices of the Ohio Supreme Court judges are being enlarged inside the Capitol Annex.

Only Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft now has a two-room office in the annex directly east of the main building. The other six judges have one-room offices.

When remodeling is completed, each judge will have a two-room office for himself and a secretary. The chief justice will have three rooms, one for a conference chamber.

To provide the additional space, Court reporter Hiram L. Connett's quarters and a large secretarial work room are being done over into offices. All are on the third floor with the court room.

Offices of the judges will extend across the east and south sides of the annex. Fireplaces, originally used to heat most of the offices, will be retained, but all rooms will be air conditioned.

Material and furnishings for the changes will cost an estimated $10,500. The Public Works Department is furnishing the labor.

Completion is scheduled in advance of Sept. 10 when the judges return from summer recess.

Ohio U. Branch At Teays Valley Still Under Study

An Ohio University Branch at Teays Valley High School can become a reality if the need is demonstrated and if the community shows willingness to support classes.

This was the opinion expressed by Dr. Albert Gubitz, dean of Ohio University branches, in a meeting with Teays Valley officials. He also viewed the TV school.

Dr. Gubitz stressed that branch colleges are not state supported meaning that such operations must be successful financially.

He said requirements point to the need of approximately 200 students desiring to participate in classes if the branch is established. He also viewed the TV school.

Financial savings under this plan are worth thinking about, Dr. Gubitz said, since it requires about $1,300 a year to educate a student on campus and only about $500 to do so in a community branch college.

Thomas R. Smith, 415 Sunnyview Drive, entered a plea of guilty to charges of assault and battery filed in Circleville Municipal Court by Genevieve Smith.

He was handed a $25 suspended fine by acting Municipal Court Judge David Kraft and was ordered to pay court costs.

E. R. GREGG, executive head at Teays Valley, said 70 persons have indicated a desire to attend classes if the branch is established at TV. This roster was compiled in less than two weeks of canvassing.

The present 70 students would not be enough to put the branch into operation. But county school officials have indicated the sufficient number would be obtained if the project is successfully launched.

Dr. Gubitz hinted that the fall of 1964 would be the earliest time to begin branch courses at Teays Valley. School officials said the greatest need at present is to inform potential students of the proposed branch program.

According to Dr. Gubitz, a branch program would allow students to study their first two years in the fields of commerce arts and sciences, education and first year courses in engineering and fine arts.

Courses on the junior and senior level are offered only when sufficient enrollment creates a demand and when instructors are available.

Dr. Gubitz said rapid growth in the enrollment at state universities is making the branch program take on greater importance. Soon
